

The War News is Good

Yes the news from the battlefronts is good. Germany is licked, although it might take a lot more bitter fighting to make her admit it. The Pacific war is going a lot better than most authorities would have cared to forecast a year or two ago.

The news just might be good enough to make some of us let up in our efforts; for instance, to take the call for support of the Eighth Victory Loan less seriously than before, to think that, when the shooting stops our savings stops.

The news isn't that good. It is doubtful if it sounds that good to the million-odd Canadians in the armed forces, many of whom haven't seen their homes and families for over five years, and who are counting on us to get them home as quickly as possible and see them re-established in civilian life.

The news can't be that good to the 8,000 Canadians in prison camps, or to the 45,000 wounded. No matter how good the news is, it must be shadowed with grief for the dependents of the 37,000 Canadians who have lost their lives or who are missing already in the war.

We must look behind the headlines during this Eighth Victory Loan. We must see clearly the need for money to bring our forces home; to look after the sick and wounded; to care for the disabled; to re-establish them in civilian life and find them jobs; to protect those left without support.

The news that will sound good to them is the report of a record over-subscription in the Eighth Victory Loan.

Saving the Easy Way

It is a curious fact that, while people in British Columbia and the Yukon before the war used to acquire hundreds of millions of dollars of useful articles each year by spending the easy way . . . by purchasing goods with a down payment and regular payments over a period of time . . . not a very large percentage of people take advantage of the opportunities given them to save through Victory Bonds the easy way.

In the large plants and offices, where employees have had a good opportunity to see the value of saving ahead through payroll deductions, only about one-fourth of the total value of bonds purchased are paid for on the spot. Three-fourths are acquired by employees setting themselves a saving objective over six months, and having the necessary payments deducted from their wages or salary. This is a painless way to save.

Apart from the payroll canvass, however, individuals in B.C.-Yukon purchased $48 and one-half million in Seventh Victory Loan bonds, and only about 12 percent of this amount was invested from future earnings to be saved over a six-months' period. The other seven-eighths came from cash in the bank or cash kept around the house.

Besides investing their ready cash in the Eighth Victory Loan, individuals should consider carefully the opportunities for planned saving which can be explained by the Victory Loan salesmen.

There is the regular Monthly Savings Plan by which householders and housewives can set themselves a savings objective and have a far greater chance of meeting it than if they put aside funds in a casual or haphazard way.

For farmers, fishermen, logging operators whose income is irregular, the Deferred Payment Letter is an ideal method of buying bonds. Here the investor makes a small deposit, and can pay the balance at any time within six months. Interest earned by the bonds will carry them for this period without additional charges. This method will also appeal to professional men; those who have investment income and merchants who might not have funds available until inventories are liquidated.

Second Annual Musical Festival

(Fraser Valley Record, Mission City)

A Guest Editorial by William H. Monk
President of the Musical Festival Society of the Fraser Valley

We are approaching very quickly the Second Annual Musical Festival of the Fraser Valley which is to be held in Mission City again this year. Do we fully appreciate the benefits that this event brings the Fraser Valley generally and to Mission and District in particular.

The Festival movement is still in its infancy in the territory of which we speak, but already it has attracted the attention of music-minded people from nearly every point in the Fraser Valley and Lower Mainland; and this is only its second year. The dimensions to which it can probably be raised after several years of operation are a matter of conjecture.

We recall that last year the Festival was a tremendous success from every angle. Those who were responsible for and pioneered the movement were warned that they were tackling a very ambitious scheme. The committee in charge was not over confident that their venture would prove successful. Rather, they approached the dates of the Festival itself with an attitude of some concern. However, everything went smoothly; the contestants received fair and encouraging criticism from the adjudicators, the School Board and School Staffs co-operated magnificently, our music teachers worked hard to prepare pupils for the competition, and our own public responded splendidly. The result, as we have stated was: "Success, Written on the First Page."

What are we going to write on page two?

The closing date for entries this year disclosed that there are nearly three times as many competitors as there were last year. This is an extra-ordinary increase, due largely to the interest aroused in points outside Mission.

Two of the finest adjudicators in western Canada have been engaged to take charge of the competitions. The Festival is to be staged in the Canadian Legion Auditorium, which provides facilities second to none in the Fraser Valley or Lower Mainland. The program has been arranged to provide a variety of performances at each session in order to hold the interest of the listening audience throughout.

There is only one other requirement necessary to make the Second Annual Musical Festival of the Fraser Valley bigger and better than the first:

Support the movement by attending the sessions. Your presence in the audience will encourage the competitors to show to their best advantage. It is up to you, Mr. and Mrs. John Public, to write "SUCCESS" in Heavy, Indelible Print on Page Two.

Hear Thought-Provoking Talk on Post-War Employment Problems

April meeting of Mission City & District Board of Trade, presided over by President W. H. Monk, heard a thought-provoking talk by a member, A. G. McInnes of Mission City, on post-war problems confronting British Columbia.

Mr. McInnes said: "Recently I was told by a close friend that he thought it would be a splendid thing for B.C. if we had a very much larger population. I considered this remark and started some investigation. I have come to the conclusion that a large population does not necessarily mean a prosperous country.

The study of population growth of countries sometimes reveals some interesting facts.

In B.C. for instance, our records go back as far as 1811. In that year the estimated population, excluding Indians, was about 1000. For about 70 years very little growth took place and in 1881 the figure stood at 23,000. This 70 years might be termed the pioneer stage of our growth. All the natural resources necessary to support a large population were here but industry, as we know it, was practically non-existent. The chief activities of the white people were the production of furs and gold, with a very small trade in salmon and lumber. Transportation and communication within the province was difficult, dangerous and very uncomfortable. Communication with the rest of Canada extremely slow, and with the outside world a costly and uncertain process, so there was no reason for large numbers of people to immigrate to B.C.

The next period, however, from 1881 to 1911 shows a different picture. During this 30 years the railroad had reached the coast. Capital and industry had recognized the wealth of our natural resources and had commenced productive operation here. Roads were opened up and shipping lines had made our coast a regular port of call. Our goods were needed in all parts of the world and these conditions attracted large numbers of people both from east of the Rockies and from Europe. In 1911 the population had risen to 293,000. This period might be called the stage of expansion. Continued on Page Seven

Dear Mr. Editor:

May I through the columns of your paper, plead with "Dog Owners" to keep their pets on their own premises particularly at this time of the year.

It is very discouraging, to say the least, to gardeners, who have to tolerate packs of four to six dogs destroying ones' efforts in the garden, as well as damage done to ornamental shrubbery etc.

I feel that I am expressing the opinion of a majority of citizens and believe that a little consideration for the other fellow will go a long way towards peace and good will among neighbors.

Thanking you, I am,
Yours truly,

"GOING MY WAY?"

It is said that following the "Big Three's" Yalta utterances, Hitler and Goering decided to pull a "fade-out." Hitler disguised himself as a white-bearded old man and Goering as a buxom red-headed frau. To test their disguise they went to the local bar and ordered beer. Hitler paid, and the barmaid said, "Thank you, mein Fuehrer." Goering, believing that this was merely a devoutly political expression ran a test of his own by ordering and paying for two more beers. "Thank you, Herr Reichmarschal," said the barmaid. . . . Goering, very much taken aback and a little shaken, called the barmaid aside and asked her: "How did you ever see through our disguises, my dear?" Shhhhh, whispered the barmaid, "It's me — Joe Goebbels."

Fraser Valley Farmers Enjoy Most of City Advantages; All Advantages of Country Living

Assistant District Agriculturist Speaks
On Extension and Junior Club Work; Stress
Laid on Keeping Records and Organization

"In the Fraser Valley, farmers enjoy most of the advantages of living in the city and all the advantages of living in the country," declared Assistant District Agriculturist G. H. Muirhead, addressing the quarterly general meeting of Mission City & District Agricultural Association.

LATE WARBLE FLIES REPORTED INCREASING

Material for Warble Fly control of late emerging Warbles is available in all districts and farmers are urged to treat for late Warbles. The early warbles have been fairly well cleaned up in the Fraser Valley but the late ones are increasing, additional material is available.

AUCTION PRICES

The consignment of cattle was good at the Dennis Auction sale on Saturday, with fresh cows a little easier and beef and young stock good. A 4-year-old Holstein cow, fresh five days, sold for $127.50, and other fresh cows sold from $65 to $125. Beef cows ranged from $38 to $92.50; young stock, $20 to $67.50; bulls, $63 to $85; calves, 25c to $11.50.

There were few poultry consigned, the prices ranging from 45c to 70c. Hogs were scarce, but the prices were high, butcher hogs selling from $19, and sows for $35. Weaners fetched from $7.50 to $15. Horses sold from $28 to $51.

Mr. Muirhead outlined the objectives of the extension work and junior club work of the District Agriculturist's Office.

The overall object, he said, is an attempt to produce a more enjoyable agricultural life.

The extension or adult features of the work were not as well known as the junior club work now enjoying increasing popularity. Basically, however, it is designed to help increase production, reduce costs of production and thus in this two-way manner create a higher standard or better way of living.

In part this is accomplished through encouraging quality in livestock, poultry and crops.

Principal objective of Junior Club Work, Mr. Muirhead said, is to give the young people an interest, mental and financial, in agriculture; to teach boys and girls the working of a farm operation completely, as for example, raising a calf to maturity, keeping the necessary records and knowing if the animal is profitable or otherwise—"something too many farmers do not know," he remarked.

It has been found, the speaker said, that the most efficient form of agricultural education is through the juniors.

By instructing the boys and girls in how to take the "guess work" out of agriculture they know, when they want to start out for themselves just what they want to do and can do.

One of the most important functions of Junior Club Work, the Assistant District Agriculturist said, is to instruct the boys and girls in how to keep proper records.

Through club organization, Mr. Muirhead pointed out, the young people are also taught the value of co-operation.

The fundamentals of co-operation are not known to many farmers, and, he declared "Unless we learn to organize and stick with it we will have little chance of survival in agriculture."

Mr. Muirhead was introduced by G. A. Jones, junior club fieldman of Mission Agricultural Association, an appreciation of his address was voiced on behalf of the largely attended meeting by H. A. Borg of Matsqui.

With bacon, with meat, cold or hot,

It gives them more taste than they've got,

Seeds for B.C.

Within recent years, the progress made by the British Columbia seed industry has virtually made this province self-sufficient in this important branch of agriculture.

For some time past the development of seed farms has been one of the major concerns of this Company. Through seed farms located in widely separated parts of the province, we have constantly sought to improve the strains and increase the volume of all the main plant varieties grown in B.C. This work has been so successful that today we can supply all demands.

In addition, we have built the largest cleaning and assembly plant in the West, equipped with modern machinery for cleaning and grading, as well as testing rooms and germinators.

More and more B.C. growers are relying on Buckerfield's Better Seeds, and we sincerely believe them to be unexcelled for quality and dependability.

Annette Elsie Siborne Wed To Abbotsford C.O. Monday; RCAF Chaplains Officiate

A picture of bridal loveliness was the all-white entourage who walked down the aisle of Holy Trinity Church, Vancouver, Monday evening when Miss Annette Elsie DeBurgh Siborne went to exchange marriage vows with Wing Commander David John Williams, D.S.O., D.F.C., R.C.A.F.

Flt.-Lt. John C. Mathieson, M.A., R.C.A.F. chaplain, assisted by Sqdn.-Ldr. L. W. J. Province, R.C.A.F. chaplain, read the service at 8 o'clock for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Siborne and the son of Capt. and Mrs. J. C. Williams, all of Vancouver.

Shimmering folds of opalescent satin fashioned the period model worn by the bride whose cloudy embroidered veil was worn over her face as she came toward the chancel rail. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias, sweetpeas, violets and roses.

Her matron of honor was Mrs. G. R. Siborne, while Miss Peggy Williams, the groom's sister, and Miss Vera Musgrave, were the bridesmaids.

Cpl. George Kearley, R.C.A.F., was best man.

Flying Officer Norman Hastings, Flying Officer Jim Masson, Mr. G. Williams and Mr. T. Williams ushered the guests.

The reception was held in the lounge of the Georgia Hotel and later the couple travelled to Victoria.

They will reside at Abbotsford, where the groom is commanding officer of the air station.

CHURCH COLLECTION RULED ILLEGAL

Wartime border restrictions have reached right into the church collection plate.

Captain Watson Armstrong, Netherlands consul-general in Vancouver, told Eeco N. Van Kleffens, foreign minister of Holland, a story of the Dutch community in the Sumas area.

There is a Dutch church, he explained, but it is just 100 yards on the American side of the border.

Before the war the government allowed the Canadian Dutch free passage over the line.

Then wartime finance regulations complicated things.

The difficulty was finally solved by putting the Dutch on their honor first that they would go nowhere in the United States except to the church and that they would put nothing in the collection plate.

That would be exporting currency without a permit.

If their conscience troubled them, said Ottawa, they could contribute to Canadian charity.

Pupils from the Kilgard school realized $55 from a sale of work and a social evening held in the Kilgard hall on Friday. The pupils had worked for weeks preparing articles for the sale, and with donated articles, the tables were filled. After the sale of work, the pupils presented a program which was followed by dancing to music provided by the band from the airport.

The amount realized will be equally divided between the Junior Red Cross and the school library fund. The teachers and pupils are grateful to all who helped make their effort a success.

A. S. Towell, director of education, was present and took pictures of the articles for sale.

Abbotsford Will Be Home Of Popular Mission Couple

An Air Force officer now stationed on the lower mainland after extensive service with 10 B.R. squadron, North Atlantic Patrol, was the bridegroom at an interesting evening wedding in Mission City Saturday, April 21, 1945 when P/O Clarence Stanley Carter took as his bride Elsie Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. La Croix. Silverdale is the former home of both the principals. Forsythia, japonica and daffodils decorated the church and the be-ribboned pews for the rites which were performed by Rev. J. Fielding Shaw. Mrs. R. W. Hibbert played the nuptial music.

Brocaded sheer fashioned the bridal gown, styled with a graceful bodice gathered to a slim front panel and tiny buttons down the back, its bouffant skirt, shirred at the deep waistline, was slightly en train. A fingertip veil of Cluny lace fell from a sweetheart coronet. Gardenias, American beauty roses, freesia and calla lilies were carried by the bride, who wore a cameo pendant worn by her mother at her wedding. The bridal bouquet was later sent to a friend in Vancouver General Hospital.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was attended by her sister, Dorie, and Miss Mary Muryn, attired in matching floor-length gowns of floral sheer, with net shoulder veils in pink and blue and bouquets of carnations and jonquils. Lynn Ferguson, in pink taffeta with a colonial bouquet of iris and narcissi, was flower girl.

Groomsmen were F/O Frank Patterson and P/O O. V. Anderson, both of whom had served on the Atlantic with P/O Carter. Ushers were the bride's brother, Mr. La Croix, and Pte. H. A. Chester.

At the reception attended by more than 200 guests in Silverdale community hall, guests were received by Mrs. J. La Croix, in a poudre blue dressmaker suit with matching hat and corsage of carnation, and by the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. Farrington, who wore a chocolate brown suit complimented with beige accessories and yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Stanley Carter, mother of the groom, was becomingly gowned in a gold-toned ensemble and pink carnations. Miss B. Broadfoot was responsible for decorations in both the church and hall.

The three-tier wedding cake, embedded in tulle and flanked by tall tapers in silver sconces centring the bride's table, was made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. Farrington. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. Geo. Webster and Mrs. Percy Ferguson, aunts of the bride and groom respectively. Serviteurs were Mesdames Harold Harper, E. Neid, D. Conley, M. Gagnon, D. Ogilvie, J. Sullivan and B. Chester. The toast to the bride was proposed by F/O Patterson.

During the evening a telegram of congratulations was received from F/O Pat Cheater, RCAF, in whose squadron P/O Carter formerly served.

For travelling on a wedding trip to Vancouver Island, the bride wore a queen's blue dressmaker suit, matching small hat, black accessories and corsage of gardenias. On their return P/O and Mrs. Carter will reside in Abbotsford.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patterson, Vancouver, Mrs. Geo. Webster Whonock, Mr. and Mrs. E. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davies, Mrs. Hall and Miss Trenchard, all of Vancouver; Mrs. D. Ogilvie, Misses Evelyn Skinner and Mary McNable, Mr. and Mrs. George Symons of New Westminster; Mrs. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morrow, Mrs. Hamilton of Chilliwack; Mr. and Mrs. D. King, Haney; Mrs. Trenchard and Mavis of Hammond and Mrs. Gunnerson; Mr. and Mrs. A. Thorpe and Harry, Pitt Meadows; Mr. and Mrs. C. Picton, Clifford and Connie of Escondale; Mrs. Mae Morgan, Steveston; Miss Lottie Southworth, Abbotsford; Mr. Harris and Mrs. Iten and Billy.

Provincial NEWS LETTER

Six million dollars has been invested in the Canadian 8th Victory Loan by the Government of British Columbia, it was announced by Premier John Hart following a visit from members of the provincial executive of the Victory Loan organization.

This brings the total holdings of Victory Bonds in the Government's sinking funds, trust accounts and Workmen's Compensation Board funds to $57,500,000. Up until the present campaign, British Columbia's holdings were $51,600,000.

British Columbia still stands first among all the Provinces throughout the Dominion in the actual amount of money invested in Government funds by Victory Loans. In making the announcement, Premier Hart called upon all citizens to support the campaign to the fullest extent as every effort would have to be exerted until the last shell has been fired and peace finally won.

No time was lost by the newly-appointed B.C. Power Commission in getting its organization work under way so that development of power throughout the Province and acquisition of plants necessary thereto might be accomplished as quickly as possible, it was announced by the Premier.

First action taken by the B.C. Power Commission was the appointment of Mr. John Harvey, chartered accountant and present Deputy Comptroller-General for the Provincial Government, as treasurer and acting chief accountant for the Commission.

It is expected that Mr. Harvey's assistant in the Government service, namely, Mr. Cyril Norman, chartered accountant will succeed him as Deputy Comptroller-General.

The new 100-bed addition to the Essondale Mental Hospital is expected to be completed shortly, it was announced by the Honourable George S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary. This wing will be used for aged people.

In making the announcement, the Honourable Mr. Pearson said that it was expected a contract for a similar unit would probably be let within the next few weeks. Mr. Pearson's plans for Essondale called for expenditure of upwards of $3,000,000 and includes the provision of added accommodation by taking over of the Boys' Industrial building as soon as it is available — a new building

CANADIAN DOLLAR IS BAILEY BRIDGE

By Edna Jaques

"One more river to cross," hasn't meant such a problem to the Allied Armies as was feared, even when the enemy destroyed the bridge before retreating. Britain's famous 'Bailey Bridge' has been the answer to many an army man's dream. This invention of British Engineers has been adopted by the U.S.A. as well as the Red Army. It is a significant fact that the rough plans for this new design were made in 1940, during Britain's darkest hour.

The essential feature of the Bailey Bridge is its use of relatively light inter-changeable components. The standard sections are ten feet long. The heaviest part can be handled by six men. Each section is joined to the next by one steel pin, as simply as constructing a model with a child's meccano set.

When the war is over Canada still has 'one more river to cross'—back into peacetime living. How we will do this rests almost entirely upon the value of our money. That will be the golden bridge over which many will find their way back. If a dollar will still buy a good honest dollar's worth, it will be an easy crossing. If inflation gets a head start, the bridge will collapse bringing disaster and ruin to thousands of Canadian homes.

In nearly six years of war, the cost of living has risen only 17%. In plain everyday language this means that a dollar still has a high buying power, which is mighty good news in any country touched by war.

ODEON ACQUIRES VICTORY THEATRE AT MISSION CITY

In Circuit With Neighbors: Haney And Abbotsford

Victory Theatre in Mission City has been purchased by the Odeon Theatres of Canada Ltd. This brings to 30 the number of theatres being operated by Odeon in B.C.

J. Howard Boothe, district manager for B.C., announces that the house, which has a seating capacity of 625, was acquired from Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bannister, who are well-known in the theatre business. It will be under the direction of Earle Hayter, newly-appointed B.C. suburban supervisor for Odeon.

The theatre was taken over on April 16, when Mr. Hayter authorized the first of a series of proposed improvements including redecoration of the front exterior.

having been planned for the Boys' Industrial School.

The Honourable E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, announced that consideration was being given a project for the use of an abandoned mine as a practical school for miners in post-war vocational training for veterans.

The rudiments of tunneling, stoping, drilling, mucking and other phases of the mining work would be taught and in this manner, it would be possible to ascertain the number of those interested in going into this branch of B.C. industry for civilian occupation. The Minister estimates there will be an immediate demand for approximately 3,000 men in the B.C. mining industry as soon as mines are able to proceed following the removal of wartime restrictions.

Tenders have been called for the construction of the Peace River outlet through the Pine Pass by the Minister of Public Works, the Hon. Herbert Anscomb. The bids are open to all Canadian firms which were registered and operating in Canada on January 1, 1944. The tenders are returnable to the Minister of Public Works not later than 12 o'clock noon, June 27.

The successful contractor will be required to commence the work immediately upon signing the contract and to complete the work by 1947. Included in the work are two major river crossings, one on the Parsnip River and one on the East Pine River. The highway will be constructed to the Department's 3rd class standard which provides for over-all roadbed width of 32 feet, with 24 foot gravel surface.

LEGION MEMBERS HEAR B.C. OFFICERS ON POST-WAR PROBLEMS

Dealing principally with the embracing subjects of post-war rehabilitation and unemployment, Jack Henderson, provincial president of the Canadian Legion revealed to a meeting at Haney last Wednesday his doubts regarding an early adjustment of employment difficulties. Declaring that increased machine production will create a barrier to placement of men, he counseled those present, as members of a vitally interested group, to keep abreast of the situation.

Low Price, second vice-president, described to members the extensive alterations taking place at provincial headquarters in Vancouver. The provincial secretary, Robert Mac-Nicol also addressed the meeting, painting an interesting and vivid picture of his experiences overseas in connection with the Canadian Legion War Services.

At the conclusion of the well-attended meeting, at which several Valley branches were represented, the W.A. to Haney branch served refreshments.

TALK ON POST-WAR EMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

The last period from 1911 to 1940, serious dimensions. might be called the period of interruption and frustration. The first world war struck in 1914 and drew away a proportion of our young men many of whom were potential leaders of industry. Very few munitions were manufactured in B.C. and industry generally ceased to expand. After the war, in 1921, a general decline in commodity prices took place, followed in 1929 by a slump in international trade. A further blow to our industries was delivered by the USA imposing a prohibitive tariff on lumber, cattle and other products in 1932.

British Columbia industry was only saved from utter collapse by the British Empire Preferences which took effect in 1930 on lumber and in 1932 on other products.

The population in 1941 stood at 793,000. Thus we see that during the time of our expansion up to 1911 our population increased at the rate of 137 percent each decade, whereas since 1911 the population only rose at the rate of 38 percent per decade.

During the past four years our industry has been busy at peak production on goods for or of destruction. This false prosperity has been made possible solely by high taxation and forced draft public loans.

So at the end of hostilities in both war theatres we are faced with the problem of providing productive, steady work for, in addition to our normal population:

Men of the armed forces 90,000
Those who came here during the war 100,000 also youths leaving school and the immigrants so optimistically spoken of.

I do not presume to offer a solution of this problem, but would suggest two things that are very important in order to provide continuous, productive employment:

- 1) Ensure the perpetual and adequate supply of raw materials.
- 2) Find steady and sure markets for our products.

We all know how seriously our forest resources have depleted in the past and how necessary it is to replace the growth. This must be done as rapidly as possible. It is estimated that 1,200,000 acres of first-class forest land is ready for planting. This land burned over long after logging took place, thus destroying all young volunteer growth. In addition, about 40,000 acres are logged every year. The rapid reforestation of all this land will ensure a perpetual crop of 500,000,000 board feet annually. The University of B.C. offers a course in silviculture and has been granted 10,000 acres of forest land for research work. This is very good, but not enough. I believe that the governments should institute schools of forestry so that youths on leaving school could be trained in forestry work, should their ability point in that direction. In this way we could obtain the required number of trained men to supervise actual planting and care of the young forests.

Regarding our fisheries. To the layman not having the opportunity or inclination to study the figures of our yearly salmon packs, it will be something of a shock to realize that the pack from all areas of B.C. has declined in eight years by 600,000 cases per year. In some individual cases the pack of certain districts has almost disappeared. The loss of wealth in the Fraser Valley alone since 1913 till now was about 15,000,000 cases, representing $180,000,000.

Fortunately the International Pacific Salmon Commission has done very valuable research work which is now being put into practice at Hell's Gate, and it is confidently expected that on completion the Fraser River salmon yield will be up to a higher level than ever before. However, this is not enough. In my opinion this research or practical work should take place on all our salmon rivers and streams. Obstacles both natural and artificial, should be removed to give access to the spawning grounds. Fishery officers should be appointed near all important rivers or streams to protect the fish crop. He should reside near the scene of his endeavors and accommodation should be provided for this purpose. Poaching should be severely dealt with, for the loss of one salmon means the future loss of many thousands, and gentlemen, salmon poaching has reached very bers point out, is arranged to give a maximum of pleasure to the public able to attend the sessions which are to be held forenoon, afternoon and evening each day.

The adjudications of the various classes, they point out, are an education in themselves, covering as they do the entries in piano-forte, vocal, folk dancing, rhythm bands, choirs, school choirs, duets etc.

So in these ways we should lose no time in assuring a future supply of our raw materials—given these we can safely leave it to our manufacturers, whose record in the past five years is so outstanding, to use them in an economical and profitable manner.

We now approach the disposal of our surplus goods. We can never expect the balance of Canada to absorb very much of our products. The goods we manufacture are such that each province has a sufficient quantity for its own consumption. We have always had to find a market outside Canada for about 75 percent of our products.

The world markets are divided into three areas:

The Sterling Area consisting of the Commonwealth of Nations (excluding Canada) a large part of Europe, the Dutch, French and Belgian Empires, all of Africa and two-thirds of Asia.

The Dollar Area, consisting of the Western Hemisphere; and Russia, on a gold and barter basis.

In the past we have found the Sterling Area to be the most stable and satisfactory market. However, Britain is no longer in a position to purchase large quantities of our goods. She impoverished herself defending democracy. Britain has no dollars to spare to purchase our goods. She enjoys the use of our fruits, dairy products, lumber and fish, but if necessary she will keep her belt tightened and purchase only her direct necessities in these goods, and that within the Sterling Area. There is one way in which we can trade with her, and that is to reduce our tariffs that she may ship to this country her manufactured goods that we need and so place herself in a position to buy our surplus products.

As far as the Dollar Area is concerned, it does not need our produce. The Dollar Area became rich and obtained almost all the world's gold. It built numbers of huge streamlined factories for mass production of every conceivable type of product and trained millions of workers in new trades and methods. All this on borrowed time from the United Kingdom while she heroically fought the Battle of Britain. Thus we cannot expect to find a market in this area.

This leaves Russia, but as she is well supplied with the raw materials to manufacture the same products that we wish to sell, we cannot look for much help there is disposing of our goods.

Therefore it is my opinion that we must look again to the Sterling Area as our safest and most reliable market, as we proved in the pre-war days.

There is, therefore, I believe, a duty to be performed by influential organizations such as this Board of Trade:

First, they should urge by every possible means that our future supply of raw materials be assured by immediate action to this end:

Second, they should make it perfectly clear, in no uncertain terms, to their representatives in the East, that some adjustment of tariffs must be arranged so that the United Kingdom can sell her manufactured goods (which we need) in the Dollar Area, thus enabling her to secure enough dollars whereby she can purchase our products (which she so sorely needs). This in defiance of the Eastern interests, who will be quite willing to protect themselves at the cost of our industrial life.

Long life... low upkeep
...the Ford V-8 Engine

ALL THE FORDS on the road today are growing old—there have been no new ones made since 1942. The amazing thing to owners is how well they've stood up all through the war.

In many cases they haven't had the best of care, for many of the skilled mechanics who formerly tuned them up regularly are in the armed forces, and Ford dealers must give priority to the servicing of essential transport.

The way Ford cars have kept on doing their duty during the war years speaks well for the way the Ford V-8 engine is engineered and built. Its rugged simplicity has meant low upkeep cost. Its fuel economy has made thousands of Canadians thankful they owned a Ford when the war came on.

Will the post-war Ford be powered with the same V-8 engine? Yes, a V-8 with all the battle-tested refinements resulting from the war years. Continuously since 1942 Ford of Canada engineers have developed new refinements to enhance the performance of the V-8 engine in the war zones. In the post-war models all these engineering advancements will be offered to you at once.

Is The Stork Losing His Job?

Canadian flying men have moved a lot of strange cargoes both at home and abroad in the last several years, but when a Quebec Airways Boeing took off from Quebec City Airport the other day, bound for Chicoutimi, it carried one of the strangest loads of all—26 babies, not one of them over five months old!

The infants were being transferred from La Creche Saint-Vincent-de-Paul in Quebec to Chicoutimi—a long train ride, but only an hour away by air. L'Abbe Germain, priest in charge of the orphanage, contacted officials of Quebec Airways, a Canadian Pacific Air Lines subsidiary, with the result that the babies flew, and all in one plane-load. Ordinarily, the aircraft carries ten passengers and a crew of three. But with Sister Coeur Immacule and Sister

Marie de la Reparation, who were also making their first airplane flight, the total number of souls aboard was thirty-one. Even so, with each baby weighing an average of ten pounds, it was a far lighter load than customary.

Special three-place cribs, made of plywood, were built so that each box would fit into one seat in the airplane. Wrapped snugly in baby blankets, and strapped in both boxes and seats, even the roughest of air could not have tossed the tiny infants out. And as it turned out, there wasn't even one bump on the entire trip.

"They didn't give a bit of trouble," said Stewardess Joan Harland, a veteran hostess of the airline. "After the take-off, they just went to sleep, and that's all there was to it!"

Bachelor Captain Art Leach, pilot of the plane, didn't have much to say: "They were squealing when I went forward before take-off, and they were squealing after I landed," he announced grumpily.

Said First Officer Gordon Alexander: "I didn't hear a thing. Had the ear-phones on all the time." Then, musingly, "Seems to me static was a little worse than usual, though!"

Busy every day in the year, carrying commuters to and from important daily tasks—bringing service men home to long-waiting loved ones—carrying essential freight and repairs to keep vital production going. ### CREDIT GRANTORS DISCUSS POST-WAR PLANS, PROBLEMS

Twenty-nine members of the Retail Credit Grantors' Association gathered recently at an evening dinner meeting in the Legion Annex, Mission City, for discussion of post-war credit trends.

Eric Marsden, president of Sterling Foods, Vancouver, outlined the aims and objects of a relatively new association, "Credit Grantors of Canada" and the program it is working on for the post-war period. He advised those present that, as members of the local association, they were also members of this new association, and that any suggestions they care to make will be taken up with other local associations across Canada. He invited the

New Recipes For Rhubarb Using Minimum of Sugar

Rhubarb, sure sign of spring and first fruit of the garden, is at its best now. Green, pink or rosy-red, it adds colour to meals and a tangy flavour to desserts. Straight from the garden to the pot—that's the ideal way to handle rhubarb. If it has to be purchased, be sure the stalks are crisp and firm so that the rhubarb will be tender and appetizing. Wilting flabby stalks will become stringy, poor-flavoured rhubarb when cooked. Stalks from 3/4 to 1 inch are best.

Never peel rhubarb. Peeled rhubarb loses its colour and eye appeal.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, offer some rhubarb recipes which will not make too great a dent in the sugar ration.

To prepare rhubarb—

Pour boiling water over cut rhubarb, let stand for 5 minutes. Drain and cook without additional water. Two tablespoons of sugar to 1 cup of diced raw rhubarb is usually sufficient for palatability when rhubarb is very young and mild. The sauce will taste sweeter if the sugar is not added until after the rhubarb is cooked.

Rhubarb Sauce

6 cups rhubarb
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup sugar

Wash rhubarb, cut in 1-inch pieces but do not peel. Cover with boiling water, let stand 5 minutes, drain well. Complete cooking by using one of the following methods.

Double Boiler Method: Cook rhubarb with salt in a closely covered double boiler for 35 minutes. Remove from heat. Add sugar, stir and let stand until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Six servings.

Oven Method: Cook rhubarb in a covered casserole in a moderately hot oven, 375°F, for 30-40 minutes. Remove from oven, add sugar and stir. Cover and let stand until sugar is dissolved. Chill. Six servings.

ways and confuse the defense efforts of the military. Vividly and intensely, as one who witnessed the terrible scenes he described and had, in fact, being in the midst of the terror, the speaker described the tactics of the Japs. He told of a few of the practices and atrocities perpetrated by the Japs on the country, its men, women and children, and left his audiences with a realization that here, as he said, "You are sitting pretty; you have security, your homes are intact and you have plenty to eat!" and that 28c or 56c or more a day, the cost of a $50, $100 or larger Victory Bond that pays 3% interest and returns its value, was little sacrifice to make in comparison to what might have been.

At Kilgard, J. W. Ball, manager of the Clayburn Co. Ltd., plant, told the employees that they had done a good job in the 7th Loan and an even better one in the 6th Loan. "As the 6th Loan pennant on display gives evidence," He expressed confidence that they would reach their quota of $10,000 in the 8th Loan, pointing out that many "Mickles make a Muckle." Personally, Mr. Ball said, he had invested in every loan to date and proposed to do so again in this one.

Fred Holtsbaum, chairman of the employees committee, presided and other members of the committee were introduced: John Cape, W. H. Baines and C. Gough, Jr.

At Delair the committee comprises: Paul Chevalley, Charles Walker, Frank Forrest and Henry Redekopp.

AN OLD MILL FOR A HOME

Writer and commentator Arthur L. Phelps may not see much of his unusual summer home, pictured here, now that he has gone to Montreal to join the staff of CBC's International Service.

In search of material for his recent series "The Canadian Pattern," Mr. Phelps came across this old mill at Chaffey's Lock in a quiet Ontario valley, and bought it for his summer home.

Mr. Phelps is supervisor of United Kingdom and Commonwealth broadcasts, with his office at the Montreal headquarters of the CBC's International Service. Programs are beamed worldwide over the CBC's short-wave transmitters at Sackville, N.B.

Department of Fisheries

Administration of all of Canada's tidal fisheries, those of Quebec excepted, is a major function of the federal Department of Fisheries, which also administers the non-tidal fisheries of Nova Scotia and those of the Northwest and Yukon territories.

Field officers (supervisors, inspectors, guardians) are stationed at appropriate places in the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia to carry on administrative and patrol services, but in the Northwest and Yukon territories, where commercial fishing is at present small scale, administration is handled for the department by RCMP officers. Inspection of fish products covered by the Fish Inspection Act and the Meat and Canned Foods Act is done by field men and by the scientific staffs of fish inspection laboratories on the two coasts. Departmental employees instruct fishermen in fish handling and processing. Some 25 fish hatcheries and subsidiary establishments under this department aid in maintaining and increasing the stocks of commercial and sport fish. An engineering branch looks after drafting building plans, fishway construction, etc. Another branch collects fisheries statistics and distributes information. Fish foods and their uses are studied by departmental home economists. An important wartime duty of this department is to supervise the arrangements under which great supplies of Canadian fish are made available to the United Nations.

Plastic Surgeon

Considered by his colleagues to be the most brilliant plastic surgeon in Canada, and one of the most brilliant in the world, Lieutenant-Colonel Stuart Gordon of Toronto has recently taken over the post of surgeon in charge of plastic surgery at Christie Street Hospital and adviser in plastic surgery to the Director.

General of Medical Services for the Canadian Army.

In 1941 Colonel Gordon was placed in charge of the Canadian Army's first overseas plastic surgery unit, where he personally handled the first casualties to come back from Dieppe. In May, 1943, he was put in charge of all plastic surgery at the famous Basingstoke Hospital in England, and came back to Canada last August to take over in Canada.

There are three Joint Services' Special Treatment Centres in Canada, in Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. Canada's facilities for repairing mutilated service men are second to none in the world.

Said an Army surgeon attached to one of these units, "Plastic surgery has, since the war, advanced to a point it would have taken perhaps 100 years to reach in times of peace. So fast is new knowledge being acquired, that techniques we considered up-to-the-minute 18 months ago have in many cases been so far surpassed as to be regarded now as obsolete."

You Needn't Get Stung

Perhaps there isn't a living soul who hasn't been stung at one time or another on a second-hand purchase. Most people have bought clocks that wouldn't alarm, cameras that wouldn't click, mirrors that distorted and chairs that collapsed, and have paid far too much for the experience. But it's not necessary any longer to get soaked for worthless junk. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has established new ceiling regulations on a great variety of second-hand goods and musical instruments. When in doubt, get the list of prices from the nearest WPTB office.

Three Centuries of Wheat

The growing of wheat in Canada can be traced back approximately 340 years to the summer of 1605, when a French settlement in the Maritimes cut the first crop. Today one of Canada's leading export commodities, Canadian wheat, was being exported as far back as 1754 to the tune of 80,000 bushels.

Because of Canadian farm labor shortages, National Selective Service officers have been given authority to direct any male of 16 to 65 years of age to a job in agriculture.

The value of Canada's domestic merchandise exports for February 1945, were up 4% from last year. They amounted to $236,364,000, compared with $227,168,000 in the same month in 1944.

The hum of "roving frames" in cotton mills across the Dominion is a funeral hymn for Hitler and his Nazi crew. Aircraft fabrics, tire fabrics, camouflage material, anti-gas cloth, uniforms, web equipment, tarpaulins, powder bags, ground sheets, bandages, tent ducks and scores of other war essentials are being turned out by the millions of yards. These equip not only Canadian armed forces, but also the fighting men of Australia, Africa, Britain, India and New Zealand.

What every housewife should know...

about SUGAR FOR CANNING

For tasty, nourishing and economical winter desserts, most Canadian housewives will again do some preserving this year... jams, jellies and all kinds of fresh fruits.

Sugar is still very scarce. We must continue to conserve our supplies.

This year, the allowance for home canning will be the same as in 1944—ten pounds per person. Be sure to use your ration sparingly.

HOW TO GET SUGAR FOR CANNING

Instead of special home canning sugar coupons, twenty extra preserves coupons in Ration Book No. 5 are being made available for the purchase of sugar for canning.

These coupons are good for half a pound of sugar each or the stated value in commercial preserves, for they are the same as any of your preserves coupons.

You may use any other valid preserves coupons to purchase sugar, also at half a pound each.

No exchange is necessary. Your grocer will accept any valid preserves coupons when you purchase sugar for canning.

There are now only two kinds of coupons for sugar. The regular sugar coupon, good for one pound of sugar, and the preserves coupon, worth half a pound of sugar.

The twenty extra preserves coupons for sugar for canning will remain valid until declared invalid by the Ration Administration. You do not have to use them immediately. You will be given plenty of notice of their expiry date.

GUARD YOUR RATION BOOK

If you lose your ration book, the extra preserves coupons which have already been declared valid will not be replaced. It is up to each consumer to look after his or her ration book.

Opera Group Will Present 'Florodora'

All the gaiety, sparkle and color of an island Utopia is featured in the St. Helen's Operatic Society's presentation of "Florodora" to be given at Philip Sheffield High School Auditorium in Abbotsford on Saturday, May 5, at 8:30 p.m. There are 65 in the cast.

The company will travel to Abbotsford by special car attached to Saturday evening's BCER train from Vancouver and will return to the Coast on Sunday.

The presentation is being made here under auspices of St. Matthew's Anglican Church. Prior to coming here it will be given for three days in Vancouver and later in Victoria.

Feature of the show is the hilarious portrayal of Anthony Tweedlepunch by John Jepson. Tweedlepunch, a mercenary phrenologist with a little too much love for "liquid sunshine" sets out to solve the mystery of the island of "Florodora".

Kenn Ross-Mackenzie, a new addition to this season's cast, in the romantic tenor role of Captain Donegal, is teamed with Kay Rose as the lovers ported by the ambitious owner of the island. Shirley Goode as Delores, and Robert Webster as Abercoed, sing some of the loveliest melodies of the opera.

"Florodora" is under the direction of Capt. Ernest G. Dawson, who has directed the group in all their presentations to date, including the Pirates of Penzance. Stage director is Dorothy M. Dawson.

Tickets are on sale at Sturdy's Drygoods, Hotel Atangard, and Weirs Drug Store and members of the Church committee.

M-A-S BRANCH RED CROSS HEADQUARTERS

The M-S-A Red Cross Auxiliary is grateful to the pupils of Abbotsford Elementary school for their gift of pot holders and tea towels, now on sale at the Superfluity Shop.

The High Unit of the Red Cross at Poplar also kindly donated pot holders which were made at their meetings.

Mrs. Holbrook of Clayburn brought in several bunches of violets on two successive weeks, the sale of which helped swell our funds.

On April a tea and sale of homecooking will be held in the Superfluity Shop. You are asked to keep this date in mind and support a most worthy cause.

Starting on Thursday, April 26, the Red Cross workrooms in Abbotsford will be open on Thursdays each week instead of Friday.

SEVENTH ANNUAL PIONEERS' DANCE FRIDAY, MAY 4

Invitations have been extended for the seventh annual Pioneers' re-union to be in Whatcom Road hall on Friday, May 4. The event, which will be held the first Friday of May each year, will be a dance for which the committee has obtained the Rock Valley Rangers Orchestra. Sumas branch of the M-S-A Pioneers' Association is hosts this year, and the committee has been busy making plans for the annual event. A large number of pioneers and their families and friends are expected to attend the dance.

Dear Ladies...

"Having a wonderful time — Wish you were here." We could have sent you that postcard from the High School Auditorium any Tuesday night this winter. And every woman in the Pro Rec folk dancing class would have signed it with enthusiasm.

Of course, so far not one of us has been mistaken for Vera Zorina. And Sonje Heine hasn't yet complained that we're stealing her thunder with our skater's waltz. But we've really been tripping the light fantastic, and, if at times the tripping has been rather more fantastic than light, we haven't minded. We've been having a big time — let the feet fall where they may. And we've been knocking off a few pounds where they do the most harm.

We've had a large class, with wonderfully good attendance, and a steadily mounting membership. And the members have been all sizes, shapes and ages (including two peppy grandmothers). One thing we've had in common. We are all members of "the most exploited labor class in the country" — the little women who man the kitchen sink. And we have all found these dancing sessions the grandest possible way of getting a "lift" out of the housekeeping rut.

And now we're spreading ourselves. We're entering two teams in the Musical Festival at Mission. And if our display boosts the amusement tax, we don't mind a bit. However, if it encourages other women to get out and whoop it up, we'll be de-
